Or Leave Them At 313 E. Naples St.

When my uncle passed away, his wife of 53 years could not bear to look at his empty chair so she got up and sat in it. That simple act kept her from constantly facing the vacant reminder of her loss, changed her focus, and made her feel closer to him.

Everyone must handle grief in their own way and time, but we often follow the path of most pain. She could have stared at that empty chair and felt sad, but she chose to find comfort in it instead. It is impossible to go through life without pain and problems but the secret to survival is not based on how many or few troubles we have, but how we choose to look at them.

A special thank you to the Wayland Area Business Association for sponsoring this year's decorating contest. There were so many beautifully decorated homes and yards this year that we spent the better part of an evening riding around looking at them. Everyone who participated is to be commended for their efforts!

Pfc. Chris Gleason, son of Dot and Truman Gleason, was home on leave over the holidays. The WCS grad is stationed at Ft. Carson in Colorado Springs. Chris and Johanna Belanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Belanger of Atlanta, announced their engagement on Dec. 23, the future bride's birthday. The wedding has been set for October of this year.

Friends Unlimited have planned a White Elephant Sale for their meeting at St. Joseph's on the 13th.

The Steuben County Needy Family Commodity Food Distribution will take place on Thursday, Jan. 14, at the Wayland Fire Hall from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registered families must bring their identification card. Unregistered families must provide proof of residency such as a Sheriff's ID, a driver's license, printed checks, etc. as well as proof of income like a Medicaid card, Food Stamp ID, unemployment book etc. Bring a shopping bag too!

Free dance classes will be held at St. Joseph's Church beginning Sunday, Mar. 20, from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Call the rectory for information or to register.

Call 335-3103 if you are interested in the free teen childbirth classes, infant care classes, or On-the-Grow classes for parents of one to four year olds being conducted by Help for Adolescent Mothers (H.A.M.) during January and February in both Dansville and Avon. Also call for more information about the services offered by H.A.M. or to volunteer. The Wayland Lions Club meets tonight (Thursday) in Anne Finn's Restaurant at 7 p.m.

The 55 Alive/Mature Driving, a classroom review course for automobile drivers age 50 and above will be given at the Wayland Fire Hall Tuesday, Jan. 19 and Thursday, Jan. 21, from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Attendance at this eight-hour course entitles one a reduction on car insurance. The program is being sponsored by the Wayland Fire Department, locally, and has been developed by the American Association of Retired Persons to promote safety among older drivers. To register, send a check for $10.00 payable to AARP to the instructor, Harry Palmer, 2660 E. Naples Street, Wayland 14572 or call him at 728-5529 for more information.

The Animal Rescue Network of Livingston County is starting a new membership drive for all animal lovers in the county. Annual dues are $7.50 a year but for members who wish to volunteer services, no dues are required. The goal of the Network is the establishment of a permanent shelter for abandoned and displaced animals but until this is accomplished, they need all the support and help they can get to take care of animals who need love, care, and loving home. Call Laura at 468-3426 or Jerri at 669-2264 for information or write or send a donation to P.O. Box 894, Nunda 14517.

My sister-in-law wrote and complained of the heat in Ft. Myers at Christmas. We haven't been very sympathetic!

Mark Twain Study Set for Workshop

A workshop on the writings of Mark Twain will be conducted during Poet's Theater at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 14 in the Senior Citizen Center, Hornell.

Poet's Theater coordinator Beatrice O'Brien of Cohocton said interested persons are asked to bring comments and notes about Twain for the general discussion. Following the workshop there will be time for open reading of original works, she said. Poet's Theater is open without charge to all interested persons.

State Veteran Counselor

Widows of veterans qualified for death pension can be granted a special allowance if they are blind, helpless, or so nearly helpless as to require the aid and attendance of another person notes Dr. Nicholas F. Sallese, director of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

This could add another $185 per month to her pension. For the best advice available, contact your local State Veteran Counselor at the Livingston County Campus in Mt. Morris, phone 658-2252.

Parent Program Listed at Library

Wayland Central High School Principal Thomas Dutches will talk over "Positive Parenting" with parents, grandparents, and the public in the Wayland Free Library Friday, Jan. 8, at 10:30 a.m.

The program is free and is sponsored by the boards of the Wayland Library and Community Youth Services in a cooperative effort to provide parent education programs.

Parents of three-to-five years olds are invited to bring their children to the library Storyhour held at the same time. Parents with younger children are welcome to bring them to the discussion program with them. Talk It Over is held the second Friday of each month from September through June. Presenters are area professionals in the various topic areas.

Heifer Management Seminars Planned

Two heifer management seminars will be presented by the Steuben County Cooperative Extension.

The meeting Friday, Jan. 8, will cover "Heifer Nutrition and Health," and "Heifer Management, Economics and Housing" will be discussed at the seminar Friday, Jan. 22.

Both sessions will run from 1 to 3 in the Civil Defense Center at Bath. For more information, contact Mary Beth Rymph at 607-776-9631, ext. 2300.
